Donor Circle: Why I Give

Nancy Wingelaar became a member of Daisy's Circle in November, although her journey started a little differently; as a campfire girl. Her parents were youth leaders and they helped establish her values at a young age. With her mom as a teacher and her dad working in recreation, the outdoors and learning to respect the outdoors became important to Nancy. She has a deep love for the outdoors and hiking.

Nancy was a Girl Scout volunteer for various events in Grand Junction, and became a member of Daisy's Circle because she thinks the mission and the cause are worthwhile and continues to believe the values of Girl Scouts for young women need to be supported. Nancy believes donating to Girl Scouts of Utah helps focus on the youth and building up their confidence. Through their badge work, girls will learn that hard work pays off. Nancy wants girls and her community to know that by joining Girl Scouts, girls have the opportunity to develop close female friendships forever.

The Mark of the Truly Remarkable - Girl Scout Gold Award

The Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest award level a girl can receive. Seniors and Ambassadors who earn the Gold Award tackle issues that are dear to them and drive lasting change in their communities and beyond. Gold Award Girl Scouts don't just change the world for the better, they change it for good.

Girl Scouts of Utah is proud of our 2020 Gold Award Girl Scouts who found ways to go above and beyond to help their communities, pivoting their projects as needed during a year of unprecedented change.

- Anna, who created 20 mindfulness buckets for special education students in four junior and high schools.
- Cosette, who used technology to teach her community about environmental sustainability.
- Izzibelle, who educated over 450 elementary students about wildlife nutrition and healthy alternatives.
- Sierra, who brought music education in English and Spanish to rural, Spanish-speaking communities, including web-based lessons.

It's Cookie Time!

It's our favorite time of year – Girl Scout Cookie season! Girl Scouts in Utah are selling cookies in new, creative, and socially distant ways, and we hope you'll support your local cookie entrepreneurs!

Beginning today, you can meet our cookie entrepreneurs at a cookie booth near you! Just enter your zip code into the Cookie Finder on our website. Now through March 21, customers can also search their zip code on the National Girl Scout Cookie Finder and order cookies from local troops via the Direct Ship Troop Link.

When you make a Girl Scout Cookie purchase, you're helping the next generation of entrepreneurs. Because proceeds from your purchase stay in Utah, you also power life-changing experiences for Girl Scouts all year long.

Walmart Round Up Program

March 1 and through March 30, you can round up your walmart.com or in-app transaction to the nearest dollar to benefit Girl Scouts. Look for the Round Up option at checkout. These small donations can add up to make a BIG difference for Girl Scouts.

Juliette Gordon Low Society

The Juliette Gordon Low Society was created on the 100th anniversary of Girl Scouts. A legacy or planned gift can help further your ability to support girls in the future. By joining the Juliette Gordon Low Society, you will help to ensure a future filled with promise and opportunity for the girls yet to come. Donors who make a legacy gift to the Girl Scouts of Utah are honored as members of the Juliette Low Society, reflecting the forward-thinking vision and personal commitment of our founder.

There are several ways to make a legacy gift, including:

- Make a bequest in your will
- Name Girl Scouts of Utah as a partial or full beneficiary on a life insurance policy or retirement plan.

GSU is grateful to our lifelong donors with the JGL Society whose financial support help us build girls of courage, confidence, and character, who make the world a better place. If you'd like more information about the Juliette Gordon Low Society, contact Carrie Valentine Fuller at cvfuller@gsutah.org.

Upcoming Campfire Chat

A New Decade of Leadership

March 24 @ 5:00 p.m. MT

CAMPFIRE CHATS

GIRL SCOUTS

Join us for Campfire Chat on how leadership is defined, aspired to, and prepared for in our country. We'll convene a panel of women from a variety of industries in order to get a 360-degree view of American women today and develop advice for the next generation. Together we'll ask: how has the perception of women in leadership roles changed in the last decade, and what can be done to move the needle even more in the future? Are women leaders finally seen as the boss rather than just bossy? What glass ceilings and limiting factors are still intact ... and what needs to happen for us to finally smash through them — and bring other women with us?

This special live virtual event, which is sponsored by The David and Lura Lovell Foundation, will launch the groundbreaking Girl Scout Research Institute study on the state of girls and leadership. We'll hear the results of this important research, exploring opportunities to remove the barriers that prevent girls from rising to their full potential.
