Governing Structure

Troops

Adult leader-supervised groups of girls who participate in the Girl Scout Leadership Experience.

Girl Scout Service Units

Adult leaders who support the work of troops within a given territory.

Girl Scouts of Utah (GSU)

Independent 501(c)3 nonprofit chartered by GSUSA operating under the direction of a local board of directors and overseeing all service units and troops within a given territory.

Girl Scouts of the USA (GSUSA)

A national organization supporting the work of more than 100 councils across the U.S. for more than 100 years. Headquartered in New York City.

Adult leaders are the heart of our organization!

What is a Service Unit?

The Girl Scouts of Utah Council is broken up into Service Units based on location (see map to left). Within each of these Service Units, there are volunteers who take on Service Unit Leadership positions, in order to support and represent the troops, volunteers, and girls in their Service Unit.

What do Service Units do?

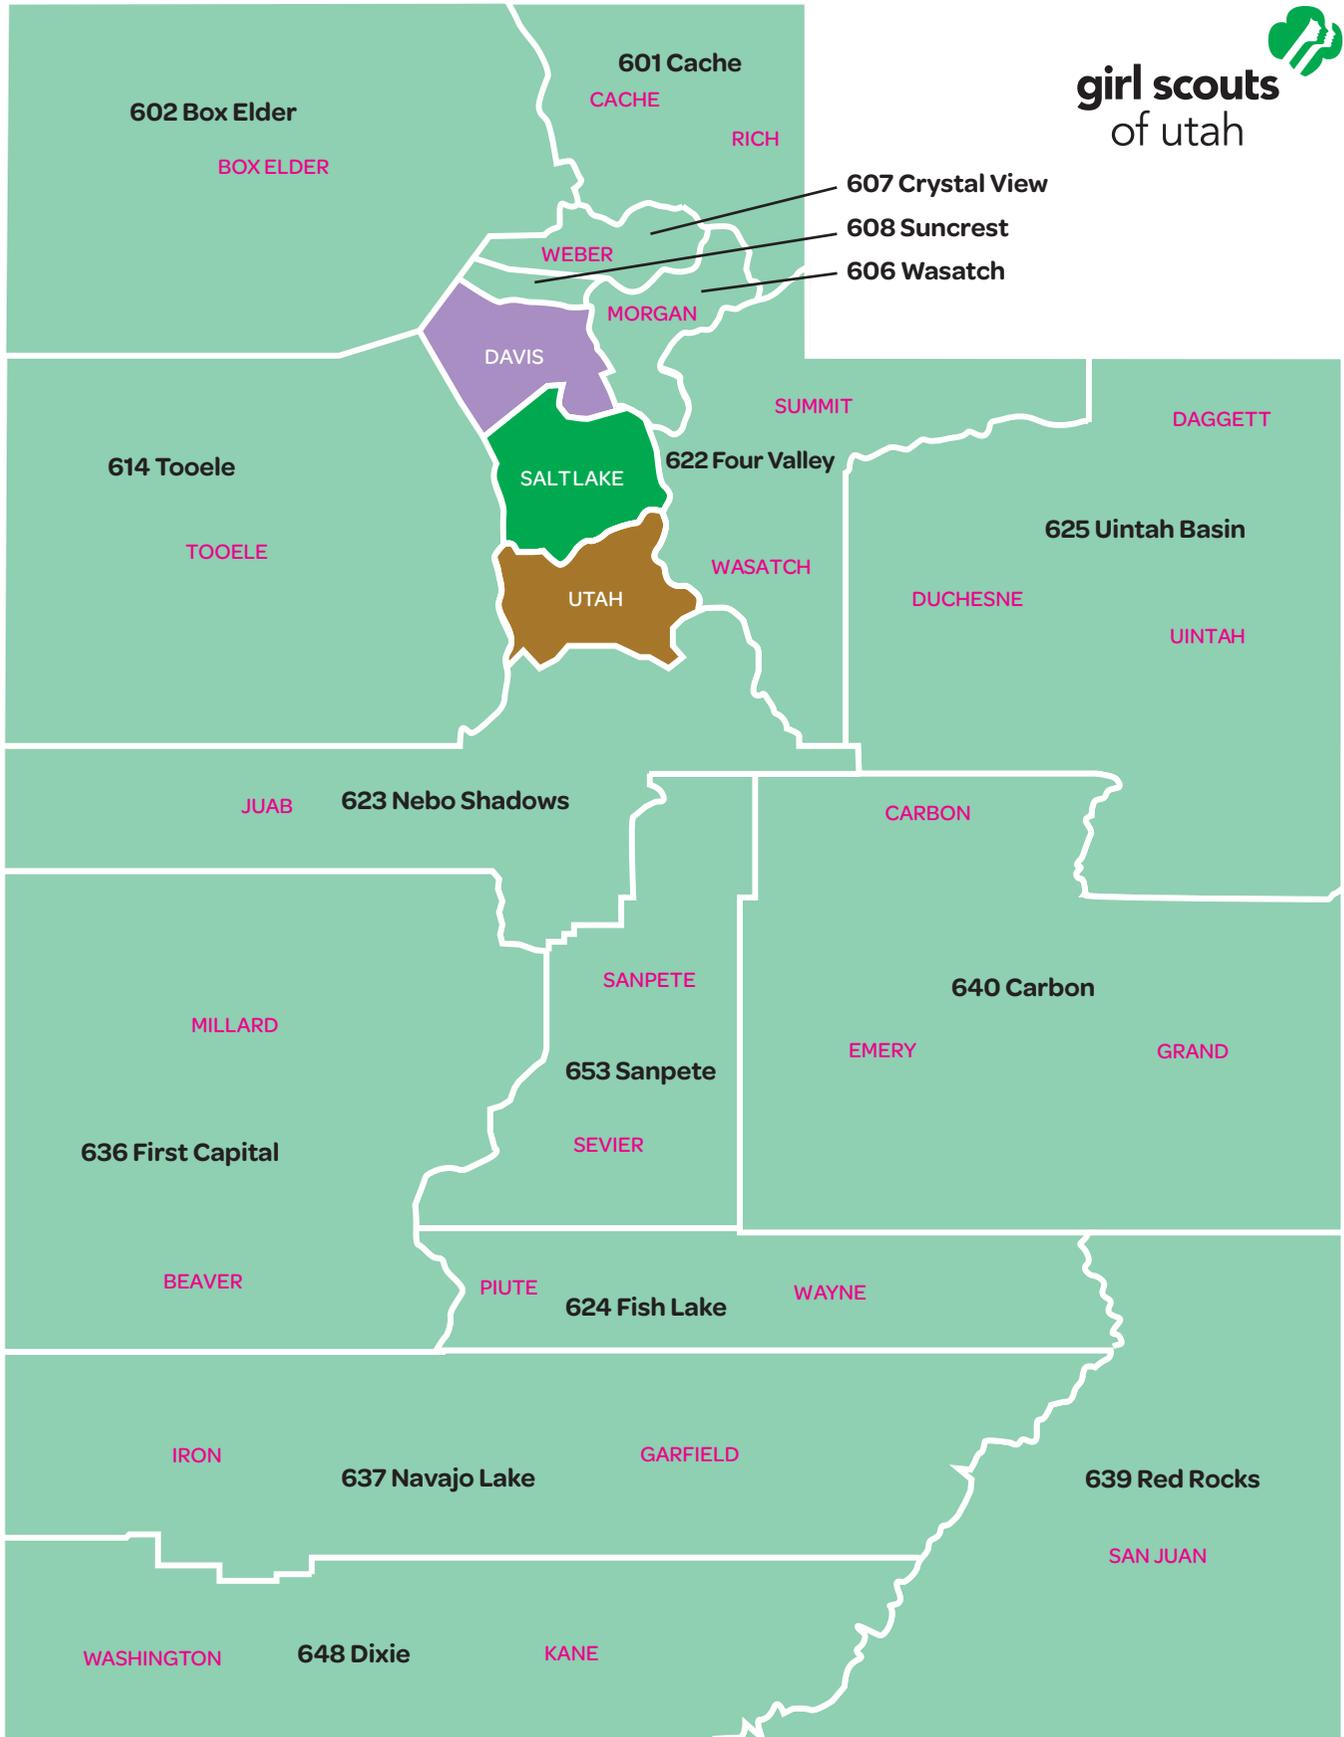

- Support volunteers, troop leaders, and girls.
- Provide guidance and help for volunteers.
- Plan and carry out events for girls.
- Represent volunteers at the council level.
- Meet on a regular basis to discuss and plan programs and events, recognize volunteers, share ideas, and provide support.

Service Unit Leadership Teams

Each Service Unit team is unique according to the needs in the area. Some of the Service Units will have less positions filled, some have additional positions according to a unique interest in that area. Reach out to these individuals for questions and support! Service Unit Leadership Teams are:

1. Made up of volunteers.
2. There to support you.
3. Include the following positions:
 - Service Unit Director: Service Unit Director is key to helping girls find success in the Girl Scout program, according to our council purpose.
 - Assistant Director: Service Unit Assistant Director is key to helping Girls find success in the Girl Scout program by supporting the Service Unit Team.
 - Product Sales Manager: The Service Unit Product Sales Manager coordinates the annual Cookie Program and/or the annual Fall Product Program for Girl Scouts of Utah at the Service Unit level.
 - Delegate Representative: The Delegate Representative supports girl and adult delegates in their Service Unit. Delegates provide a vital information link between local girls and volunteers, and the GSU governing Board.
 - Event Representative: The Event Representative oversees the creation, marketing, and execution of high-quality Girl Scout events designed to meet the needs and interest of girls and further the Girl Scout Mission.
 - Finance Representative: The Finance Representative oversees the Service Unit bank accounts and monthly finance reporting at Service Unit meetings. The Finance Representative is responsible for keeping financial records of Service Unit and troops' finances.
 - Recognition Chair: The Recognition Chair cultivates an atmosphere of appreciation through formal and informal volunteer recognition within the Service Unit.
 - Recruiter: The Service Unit Recruiter leads the Service Unit in exciting and inspiring girls to become Girl Scouts and adults to volunteer within the Service Unit.

The Girl Scout Leadership Experience

Delivering Fun with Purpose!

The Girl Scout Leadership Experience (GSLE) encourages girls to Discover themselves, Connect with others, and Take Action to make the world a better place. Guided by supportive adults and peers, Girl Scouts engage in age-appropriate activities that are girl-led, cooperative, and hands-on.

Participating in the GSLE helps girls develop important leadership skills they need to become successful adults. Girls who engage in the GSLE are more likely to enjoy and attribute their leadership skills to Girl Scouts. The GSLE delivers “fun with purpose” by helping girls gain valuable life skills and amazing new experiences while having fun and building lifelong friendships!

Girl Scout leadership elements consist of activities, processes, and outcomes. In Girl Scouts, it's not just what girls do, but also how adults engage them in a girl-adult partnership that ensures all participants have a high-quality experience. Girls should be engaged in discovering themselves and their values, connecting with others in local, state, national, and global communities, and taking action to make the world a better place.

3 Keys of Leadership

Program activities are organized around the three leadership keys (Discover, Connect, and Take Action) and are based on the values of the Girl Scout Promise and Law.

DISCOVER

Girls understand themselves and their values and use their knowledge and skills to explore the world.

CONNECT

Girls care about, inspire, and team with others locally and globally.

TAKE ACTION

Girls act to make the world a better place.

3 Processes

The processes of girl led, learning by doing, and cooperative learning are integrated into each Girl Scout activity. These processes create an environment of fun and friendship for girls, determine the quality of an experience, and make Girl Scouts unique, while also allowing for further development of leadership skills.

Girl-Led

Girl-Led means that girls of every age take an active and grade-appropriate role in figuring out the what, where, when, why, and how of what they do. They lead the planning and decision making as much as possible. This process ensures that girls are engaged in their learning and experience leadership opportunities as they prepare to become active participants in local and global communities.

In this process, adults provide:

- Age-appropriate facilitation.
- Structure that ensures that the planning, organization, setup, and evaluation of all activities is done in partnership with girls.

Learning by Doing

This hands-on learning process is something Girl Scouts has incorporated for years. It is not new! This engages girls in an ongoing cycle of action and reflection. When girls actively participate in meaningful activities and later reflect on them, they get a deeper understanding of concepts and mastery of skills. Adults need to ensure that girls are able to engage in the process and are given time to reflect on their experiences. As girls participate in meaningful activities, they will explore their own questions, discover answers, gain new skills, and share ideas and observations with others. Throughout this process, it is important that girls are able to connect their experiences to their lives and apply what they have learned to future experiences.

Examples of learning by doing activities:

- Designing and planting a neighborhood flowerbed
- Developing a play or TV commercial script
- Reflecting on an activity by having girls write in their journals or talk about their experiences in a group setting

Cooperative Learning

Through cooperative learning, girls work together toward common goals in an atmosphere of respect and collaboration that encourages the sharing of skills, knowledge, and learning. Working together in all-girl environments encourages girls to feel powerful as well as emotionally and physically safe. It also allows them to experience a sense of belonging, even in the most diverse groups.

Examples of cooperative learning:

- Brainstorming as a group
- Setting a group goal
- Assigning team roles and working together to complete a project

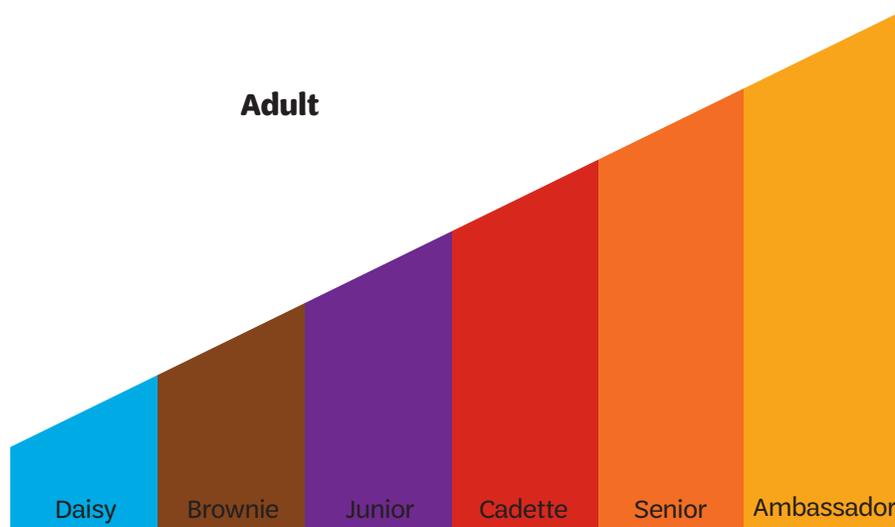

After completing a cooperative learning activity, evaluate as a group what worked well and what to do different next time.

Progression

Progression is also an important part of Girl Scouts. We follow a progression model in all that we do – from Journey programs and badges, to travel and camping. Progression simply means that we help girls build experience upon experience as they get older and learn more about themselves and the world.

When the girls are younger, the adult will play a large role in planning and carrying out activities. However, even a Daisy can still make decisions and lead in her troop. As the girls get older, the adult will take on more of a mentor role so that by the time the girls are Ambassadors, they should be choosing their Journeys, badges, and activities, planning out their own meetings, setting and following budgets, and ultimately running their own troop. In all experiences in Girl Scouts, girls start out small and simple and then progress to more complex ideas and experiences as they gain maturity and ability.

Progression Chart

5 Ways Girl Scouts Builds Girl Leaders

As girls take part in Girl Scouts, adults can review the outcomes—and the results of those outcomes—to gauge the benefits of the experience. The signs of the outcomes are reflected in what girls may think, say, or do during and after a leadership experience. These results help adults determine the success of a particular experience. Each Girl Scout program should be planned according to outcomes that will be achieved through the program.

Each girl is different, so don't expect them all to exhibit the same signs to indicate what they are learning. What matters is that you are guiding them toward leadership skills and qualities they can use right now - and in the future. Girls will lead with courage, confidence, and character to make the world a better place.

New research shows that Girl Scouts is linked to success! Girl Scouts shine above their peers in leadership, academics, career aspirations, and hope for the future.

Girl Scouts are more likely than non-Girl Scouts to:

Have a strong sense of self (80% vs. 68%)

Have positive values (75% vs. 59%)

Seek challenges and learn from setbacks (62% vs. 42%)

Develop and maintain healthy relationships (60% vs. 43%)

Exhibit community problem-solving skills (57% vs. 28%)

Why do these five outcomes matter?

When girls exhibit these attitudes and skills, they become responsible, productive, caring, and engaged citizens. But don't take our word for it! Studies show that the development of attitudes, behaviors, and skills like confidence, conflict resolution, and problem solving are critical to well-being and rival academic and technical skills in their capacity to predict long-term positive life outcomes.¹

Youth who develop these five outcomes...

Are happier, healthier, and less likely to engage in problem behaviors or be victimized.

Youth who develop competencies such as perseverance, positive self-esteem, and sociability have lower rates of obesity, depression, and aggression, and show greater life satisfaction and well-being than those who do not develop such attributes/skills.

Achieve more academically and feel more engaged in school. Youth who participate in programs that promote the attributes and skills linked with our five outcomes show stronger academic performance and school engagement compared to those who do not. When students are more self-aware and confident about their learning capabilities, they try harder and persist in the face of challenges.

Become strong job applicants. While employers want new hires to have technical knowledge related to a given job, those skills are not nearly as important as good teamwork, decision-making, and communication skills. Yet many employers around the world report that job candidates lack these attributes.

Become successful, well-adjusted adults. Kindergarteners who learn how to share, cooperate with others, and be helpful are more likely to have a college degree and a job 20 years later than youth who lack these social skills. They are also less likely to have substance-abuse problems and run-ins with the law.

What Do Girl Scouts Do?

Journeys

Each Journey has a series of activities that get girls working together to solve problems and make the world a better place! Through these activities, girls grow in confidence and leadership! They also earn awards along the way.

Take Action

Every Journey involves a Take Action project. This is where girls identify a problem they want to do something about, come up with a creative solution that will make a difference, create a team plan to make that solution a reality, put that plan into action, and finally, talk about what they learned!

Journey Themes

Girls can pick a Journey theme that they are passionate about! The themes include:

- It's Your World – Change it! (leadership and advocacy)
- It's Your Planet – Love it! (environment and science)
- It's Your Story – Tell it! (self-expression and self-esteem)
- New! STEM Journeys (materials available online only in the Volunteer Toolkit)
- New! Outdoor Journeys (materials available online only in the Volunteer Toolkit)

Journey books for girls and leaders can be found in the GSU shop. Most Journeys are also accessible in the Volunteer Toolkit.

Badges

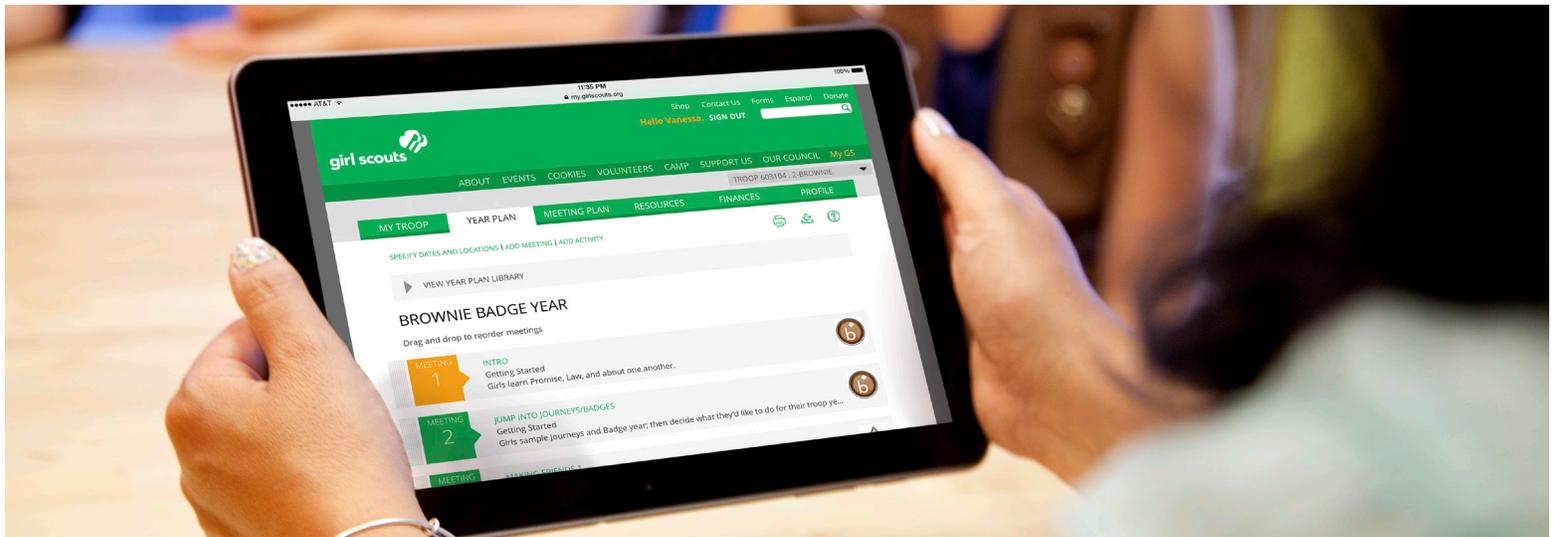

Through earning badges and other Girl Scout awards, girls can pick any interest area in which to build their skills! Badges should be placed on the front of a sash or vest. Badge activities can be found in the Girls Guide to Girl Scouts and on the Volunteer Toolkit.

Patches

Patches symbolize participation as a troop or individual in a Girl Scout program or activity. Patches are worn on the back of the sash or vest.

Volunteer Toolkit Overview

The Girl Scout Volunteer Toolkit (VTK) is a comprehensive digital tool accessible on your computer, smartphone, or tablet. Affectionately called the “Administrative Assistant” to the troop leader, this addition to Girl Scouts will make it easier to help girls put their plans into action!

Who can access the Volunteer Toolkit (VTK)?

All troop leaders and parents can access the VTK. Leaders can use the VTK for troop management and meeting planning. Parents can view their child’s information and meeting plans only. If you need assistance accessing the VTK, please contact Member Support at info@gsutah.org. We ask leaders to login and get familiar with the functionality and available materials. It will make it much easier to manage your troop and engage parents.

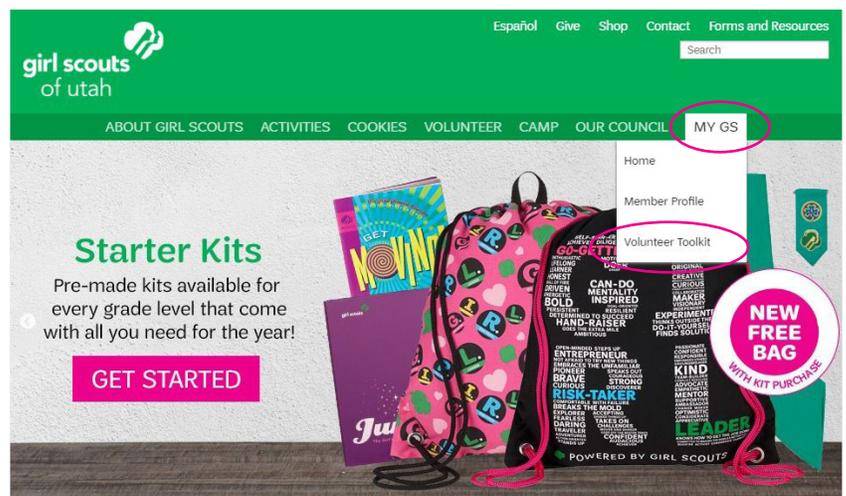

Accessing the VTK

As an approved troop volunteer, you may visit our website and click on the yellow MY GS tab, where you will enter your login to gain access. The VTK may be used from any computer or electronic device with internet capability. You can print meeting plans or download them to your personal computer using remote internet access.

Using the VTK to manage your troop

Leaders will have access to a variety of full-year plans. These pre-made plans provide everything you need to get started. You can set your meeting calendar to include locations, dates, and times. You can customize activities, delete ones that your girls don’t want to do, and replace them with new ones. The VTK also allows leaders to keep attendance and track the badges each girl earns.

Leaders can also use the Select Your Own year plan function to plan meetings, choosing specific badges and meeting plans that the girls are interested in completing.

Using the Volunteer Toolkit

You must be a currently registered adult and an approved Troop Leader/Co-Leader for your troop to access and make changes to the Volunteer Toolkit (VTK) functions. To access the Volunteer Toolkit, go to www.gsutah.org and click on the MY GS tab. Enter your login information. If you need help logging in, please contact our Member Support team.

The following five tabs make up the Volunteer Toolkit:

My Troop

Manage troop contacts, track awards and badges, track attendance, and communicate with parents/guardians.

- Click on a girl's name to see detailed information like her address, birthday, and phone number.
- You can see a list of awards, badges, and attendance in each girl's record.
- Click on email contacts to email all the families in your troop.

Explore

When logging into the VTK for the first time, you will have the option to Select Your Own year plan, or choose Pre-Selected Tracks. Each grade level includes at least one badge year plan and three or more journey year plans. Year plans are also available for multilevel troops. Using these tools, girls can be more involved in planning their troop year.

Year Plan

Once you've chosen your year plan, use the Year Plan tab to customize the dates, locations, and order of meetings.

- Use the Specify Dates and Locations tab to set your meeting dates/times and troop meeting location. Under Calendar, you can set meeting dates, frequency, and times (make sure to add in any holidays that will change your regular meeting times). Click Update Calendar to save your changes. Under Location, you can add your meeting location and address. Click Add to save your changes.
- To combine troop meetings, you can organize multiple meetings on the same date. To do this you need to click on the troop meeting date in your year plan. In the pop up box, click on the calendar and choose to combine meeting dates. Choose one date for both meetings and click save.
- Look for Milestones in orange to remind you of upcoming dates for council events, product sales, and other important dates you need to know.
- You can access last year's year plans by clicking on the See Past Years tab.
- In each meeting where there are outdoor links, you will see an evergreen tree symbol you can click on to see a choice between doing the activity inside or outside. Depending on what you choose, the activity will be customized to the setting (and if you choose to do the activity outside, the tree turns green).

Meeting Plan

Customize activities, delete ones your girls don't want to do, and replace them with new ones.

- Choose a meeting by clicking on the colored meeting date box. You must specify your meeting dates and location under the Year Plan tab to see your Meeting Plans.
- In each meeting you will see:
 - Overview - Click on the overview to see a quick summary of the meeting you are viewing.
 - Activity Plan - Gives you details of each meeting's activities.
 - Materials List - Tells you everything you need for that meeting.
 - Edit/Send Meeting Email - Gives you a scripted email for families that you can edit as needed to remind them of what the girls will be doing at that meeting.
 - Record Attendance and Achievements - This is where you can keep track of what badges girls have earned and who was at each meeting. It is populated into each girl's information in the My Troop tab.
 - Meeting Aids - Includes worksheets, songs, and other types of reference materials you will need for meeting activities. If there are outdoor components to the meeting, you may also see videos to help you get girls outdoors.
 - Meeting Agenda - Lists all the activities for the meeting with the recommended times for each activity. You can change the order of activities by "dragging and dropping," or delete activities by clicking on the activity title. You can also edit the times allowed for each activity. Activities with an outdoor component will have an evergreen tree you can click on to get girls outside with the activity.
 - Add Agenda Item - This is where you can customize your meeting by adding additional activities (like celebrating Juliette Low's Birthday) to customize your troop meeting.
 - Add a Note - you can leave notes to the other leaders in your troop to see. Parents cannot view notes.
 - Select Year Plan to return to your troop's year plan.

Resources

Use the Resources tab to explore the large variety of resources the VTK has to offer. These include online trainings, guides to trips and travel, and Girl Scouts of Utah Volunteer Essentials and Safety Activity Checkpoints.

Finances

The VTK finance tab is not currently used. All the finance forms you will need are located on our website at:

<http://www.gsutah.org/en/our-council/forms-and-documents.html>

What if I am leading multiple troops or a multilevel troop?

- If you manage more than one troop, the Volunteer Toolkit has a drop down tab located above the Finance tab that allows you to switch back and forth between your troops.
- If you are a multilevel troop, when you go to Year Plan Library you will have the option of plans for K-5 or 6-12. You can also Select Your Own Plan.

Using the Member Profile

As a currently registered adult and an approved Troop Leader, the Member Profile section under the MY GS tab allows you to manage your membership, view troop information, and edit your personal information.

The following tabs make up the Member Profile section:

MEMBERSHIP

View your household membership.

TROOPS

Renew your role as a leader, view your girl and adult troop members, re-register your troop members and view/edit your troop meeting information.

First Aider Requirements

A First Aider is a registered adult member of Girl Scouts with a certification in CPR, First Aid, and AED. This certification may be attained from the American Red Cross or another recognized organization. At least one First Aider must be present for any activity outside of normal troop meeting times/places!

Training Requirements

Activities such as taking day trips, camping, and traveling require special training from Girl Scouts of Utah. See the training catalog on the next page to see training offerings. Make sure to check Volunteer Essentials and the Training Catalog to find out what training you need before carrying out an activity.

Emergency Procedures

Girl Scouts of Utah (GSU) provides all volunteers an Emergency Information Card (see below), which provides a list of the basic procedures to follow in an emergency. The council's 24-hour emergency number is (801) 483-3413. Please carry this card with you at all times. An emergency is defined as an incident that involves:

- A fatality
- A near-fatality
- Potential media attention
- An incident that brings a Girl Scouts of Utah policy into question

Should a Girl Scout member have an accident (i.e. sprain), it is not necessary to call the emergency number. Use the "Accident Report" form and mail it to GSU as soon as possible. This form can be obtained from the website by searching "Accident Report" in the search box.

Training

Educational opportunities for volunteers are scheduled throughout the year to assist you in planning activities, conducting meetings, using the Girl Scout national programs, and implementing the Girl Scout Leadership Experience.

Classroom Training

Registration: Online at www.gsutah.org. If you need help registering for training, please contact our Member Support Specialists at info@gsutah.org or (801) 265-8472.

Cancellations: Most courses have a minimum (min) and maximum (max) number of participants. Trainings may be canceled if minimum is not reached in order to respect the time and expenses of our volunteer Trainers. A 100% refund is given to all registrants if a course is canceled by Girl Scouts of Utah.

Registration Closes: Generally, registration will close one week prior to the training at 4:00 p.m. to allow time to prepare supplies and notify the Volunteer Trainer.

You will not receive a refund if you are registered but do not show up for a course. Any questions on cancellations or refunds, please contact our Member Support Specialists at info@gsutah.org or (801) 265-8472.

When should I take a training for Troop Camping or Troop Trips?

Council applications are due 6 weeks before departure. We recommend taking Troop Camping 101 and/or Planning Extended Overnight & National Trips (three nights or more) at least six months prior to travel. Trainings are often offered in the fall and spring. We recommend taking Planning International Trips at least 18 months prior to travel. This is offered by request only.

Training by Request

If you are unable to attend training at a time, date, or location on the current schedule, you may request training by emailing info@gsutah.org. To hold a training by request you must have:

- 5 or more committed participants
- A location where the training can be held
- 3 possible dates for the training that are at least 6 weeks after the training request

Note: if there is not at least 5 participants registered for the training one week in advance the training will be canceled.

The Parent Meeting

We ask that all troop leaders host a parent meeting at least once per year. This is your first step for parent involvement. It will set the tone for communication, and provide an opportunity for the parents to offer their help and support.

What do I need to discuss?

- 1 Intro to Girl Scouts - the parents should know what Girl Scouts is all about! Use the PSA (<https://vimeo.com/295383000>) to give them an idea!
- 2 The Promise and Law - parents should understand what we commit to as Girl Scouts.
- 3 About you - Who you are, what your background is, and why you have taken on the role of Troop Leader.
- 4 Dates and times - when will your meetings be? Will there be any special trips or activities this year?
- 5 Troop Communication - this is one of the most important pieces of your Parent Meeting. How will you communicate with parents (Facebook, Text Message, Email, etc.)? What kind of response do you expect? Avoid conflict by setting communication expectations from the very beginning!
- 6 Costs - will the troop collect dues? Will parents be expected to purchase their daughter's membership or will the troop fund this from Cookie sales?
Note: Girl Scouts of Utah will provide financial aid to any girl who cannot afford her membership. Finances should not present a barrier to a girl becoming a Girl Scout.
- 7 Uniforms - you do not need to require that girls wear uniforms; however, it is preferred. If cost is a barrier, girls may decide to spend their Cookie earnings on uniforms. If parents will be responsible for purchasing uniforms, you should tell them what to buy and how much it will cost.
- 8 Parent Involvement - how would you like parents to be involved? Keep in mind that different parents may be able to be involved in different ways.
- 9 Safety and Policies - parents want to know if their daughter will be safe.
Note: Membership fees cover insurance for each girl when at a Girl Scout event. Make sure policies and requirements are followed, such that the insurance cover remains intact.

Am I allowed to set requirements for parents?

Troops may decide to set certain requirements for parents. If you choose to do so, please keep the following in mind:

- The economic feasibility for parents
- Sensitivity to parent work schedules
- Strengths, weaknesses, and knowledge base of different parents

Examples of different requirements troops may choose to set:

- Family snack rotation (each week and different family organized snack)
- Troop dues (each girl brings a specified amount of dues)
- Meeting host rotation/Troop Co-op (some troops balance the parent load by rotating who will host and lead each meeting)

Other General Tips for Involving Parents

Set clear expectations early – from the very beginning

Setting your expectations for parent/guardian involvement and the needs of the troop right from the beginning can help to offset future conflict. For example, let parents know that they need to help out with a certain number of activities a year, what time they need to pick up their girls from activities, and what the troop dues will and will not cover.

Encourage participation

Sometimes simply asking them in person is enough. Encourage participation by communicating that the more parents that are involved, the better the troop will function.

Use their talents/skills

At the beginning of the year, survey the parents to discover their interests, hobbies, and hidden talents. When they return the questionnaire, discuss ways that they can teach or help plan a meeting.

Divide up the responsibilities - Adult Kaper Chart

Provide parents with a list of activities that need to be completed throughout the year (drivers, emergency contact, cooking, photographer, etc.) and ask that they select at least one item to help with during the year. As an added bonus, leave space for them to suggest other items they may want to help with. Make sure that parents who help out are registered volunteers.

Cooperative Learning

From the beginning, include parents in planning, setting annual goals, and asking for feedback.

Invite parents

When the girls have planned an activity or event that is close to home, invite the parents to meet at the event. Parents want to see what their girls are up to and will often stay and help.

Stay in contact

Determine a regular method of communication (monthly emails, a troop Facebook page, WhatsApp messenger group, etc.) and stick to it. Get the parents to agree to check/respond to communication in the specified method as part of the agreement they sign at the parent meeting. When sharing upcoming events, be specific on how many volunteers you need and what they would do. (Don't discourage parents by saying "I don't need help" and always encourage their help and participation.)

Celebrate! Appreciate!

Have your girls plan their Bridging Ceremony and send formal invites to the parents. Parents will attend and build a community as they share in the celebration. Get a sample parent meeting presentation on our website here:

<http://www.gsutah.org/en/for-volunteers/online-support-for-volunteers.html>

When Conflict Arises

How to avoid it:

- 1 Set Clear Expectations - Make sure to outline the responsibilities of the troop leader(s) and parents/guardians and ensure that these expectations are clearly communicated and agreed to by all parties. This will prevent a lot of future conflicts.
- 2 Assume good faith - Assume that the other person is making a well-intentioned effort to help.
- 3 Address issues early - Should an issue arise, address it early so that it does not grow into a larger problem. Refrain from generalities; instead, be specific when confronting someone about an issue.
- 4 Be Respectful - Different opinions and points-of-view are welcome. Understand that you may not share the same experiences and perspective as others. Try to find common ground and use the principles of the Girl Scout Promise and Law to inform your discussions.
- 5 Speak only for yourself - And allow others to do the same.
- 6 Remember the girl - The well-being of the girls and the group is always our primary concern.
- 7 Show Appreciation - A simple “thank you” can go a long way!
- 8 Take a Break - Should respectful conflict escalate into an argument, walk away and address it when all parties can approach the issue rationally and calmly. And never use social media to resolve conflicts.
- 9 Be flexible - Understand that sometimes things will not go according to plan and that people make mistakes. Girl Scouts is a lot more fun when you can “go with the flow.”
- 10 Maintain a sense of humor - Girl Scouts is about learning, growing, making mistakes, and having fun!

When handling a conflict:

- Listen: Listen to the issue being presented to you without giving feedback until the other party is finished speaking.
- Acknowledge: Acknowledge the other person’s concern and respectfully respond to it.
- Solve: Work together to find a solution that both parties can agree upon.
- Thank: Thank the other person for bringing the issue to your attention and for calmly working to address it.

Organizing Your Troop

Before you hold your first troop meeting, consider the support and resources you will need throughout the year. We recommend holding a Family Meeting to rally additional adult volunteers.

Tips for Structuring Your Troop:

Troop Formation

Troops may be assigned by grade level or leaders may choose to facilitate multilevel troops with girls of all ages combined in one troop.

Meetings

Determine the frequency of your meetings and the meeting/ activity schedule. Use the online Volunteer Toolkit (VTK) to help you through this process.

- Most troops meet twice per month, but you can choose a schedule that works best for you.
- Your meeting space should be somewhere safe, clean, and secure and that allows all girls to participate. Some great meeting space ideas include: schools, churches, places of worship, libraries, or community centers.

Meeting Structure

Girl Scouts is designed to be girl-led. Talk to the girls and parents about what they'd like to get out of Girl Scouts this year.

- Think about how you want to lead. Do you want to run every troop meeting? Consider rotating the responsibility with different members of your troop. Parents and girls can team up to lead one meeting each.

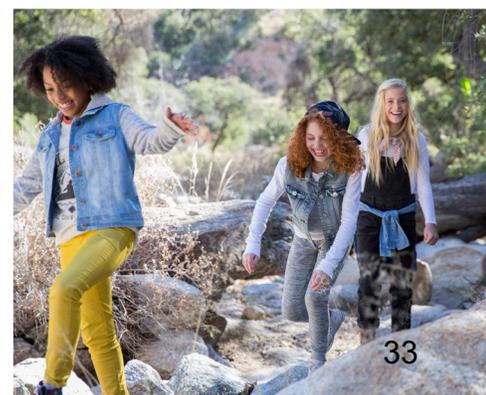

Cost

Consider supply costs – does your troop need to charge monthly or annual dues to help off-set costs? Will you charge families per activity? It's important to talk with families about financial expectations up front. Assign a parent or adult volunteer to help manage the troop finances.

Communication

Keep everyone in the loop. Make sure families know when and where your activities will be and how they can help!

Make Sure You're Having Fun!

Now You are Ready to Meet

There are Six Parts of a Troop Meeting

Organizing your meeting is easy with the Volunteer Toolkit (VTK) – your one-stop resource to planning your entire year as a troop leader (login on MYGS at gsutah.org). This simple guide will give you the framework for how a typical meeting runs. The VTK will help you fill in the holes with specific activities and timelines.

Most important – your meetings should be fun!

- 1 Start Up – Plan activities for girls as they arrive at the meeting so they have something to do until the meeting starts. It could be as simple as coloring pages, journaling, or talking with each other (5 minutes)
- 2 Opening – Girls decide and lead their meetings opening – most begin with the Girl Scout Promise and Law, a simple flag ceremony, song, game, story or other activity (5-10 minutes)
- 3 Business – This is the time to let girls plan their upcoming meetings or decide what council events they want to attend as a troop, collect dues, and make announcements (5-10 minutes)
- 4 Activities – Support your troop as they complete their per-selected activities to work towards badges and journeys. This portion of the meeting should be heavily girl-led with the troop leader aiding on the side (30-45 minutes)
- 5 Clean up – Girl Scout should always leave a place cleaner than they found it! (5 minutes)
- 6 Closing – Just like opening, each troop can decide how to close – with a song, a game, or a story (5-10 minutes). As caregivers arrive, provide any important updates or reminders about upcoming meetings and activities.

Tools for Your Troop

Inclusiveness

Girl Scouts embraces girls of all abilities, backgrounds, and heritage, with a specific and positive philosophy of inclusion that benefits everyone. Each girl – without regard to socioeconomic status, race, physical or cognitive ability, ethnicity, primary language, or religion – is an equal and valued member of the group, and groups reflect the diversity of the community. Inclusion is an approach and an attitude, rather than a set of guidelines. Inclusion is about belonging, about all girls being offered the same opportunities, about respect and dignity, and about honoring the uniqueness of and differences among us all.

Example: When we recruit new girl members, we reach out to all Service Units and promote the benefits of Girl Scouts to everyone. We want each girl to realize her own uniqueness and self-worth while learning to be aware of and able to celebrate the uniqueness of others.

Diversity

Diversity describes the many differences between people that we carefully consider as we live and work together. Diversity includes all physical, mental, emotional, and intellectual differences, differences of status, religion, culture, as well as race.

Example: We consider individuals' traits when we determine if our programs are representative of our community. We help each girl grow up to live in a world where she will encounter small or profound differences in people every day and enjoy those differences.

Pluralism

For the troop leader or volunteer, pluralism means that girls and adults from a variety of backgrounds work and play together as Girl Scouts united by a common Promise and Law. A system of pluralism allows Girl Scouts to develop and enjoy a common tradition while each member lives within and enjoys her own individual cultural heritage.

Example: Adult volunteers are sensitive to the wide range of religious beliefs and practices in the USA. In Girl Scouts, we avoid using specific graces before meals, but instead use words and songs that express our appreciation of being together. We encourage girls and adults to accept and celebrate their own personal differences and those of others.

We encourage diversity and inclusion by:

1. Use language that doesn't stereotype, generalize, or disrespect others
2. Plan activities while keeping in mind that others may have a different point of view
3. Learn facts rather than make assumptions
4. Involve everyone when gathering information, resolving problems, and making decisions
5. Give consistent support and supervision to everyone
6. Extend opportunities for all girls to participate in leadership roles
7. Apply rules and standards consistently and fairly to everyone
8. Be flexible and adaptable to meet a variety of needs
9. Value the opinions of others
10. Learn about and respect the cultural values of others

Encouraging an Atmosphere of Sisterhood and Respect (a.k.a. What to Do Instead of Screaming)

Create a Team Agreement

Invite girls to make their own team agreement. While working together as a team, determine acceptable behaviors girls and adults should follow during Girl Scout activities and meetings. Once this list has been created, girls and adults (including parents/guardians) sign the document and everyone gets a copy. If a disagreement occurs, it is amazing how quickly it gets resolved when girls and adults are reminded as to what behavior is permitted. The following are suggestions for your agreement:

- Follow the Girl Scout Promise and Law
- Listen, do not interrupt
- Avoid gossiping
- Let go of mistakes
- Watch body language when talking and listening
- No texting or making phone calls

When creating the agreement, consider:

- Is this item necessary?
- Do the items apply across situations?
- Are the items fair and reasonable?
- Is it possible to review and revise the rules? Are procedures in place for this?
- Is the agreement clearly understood by all members?
- Does everyone know the purpose behind the agreement and how to live up to it?
- Are there consequences for not following the rules?
- Are the consequences realistic?
- Are the consequences enforceable? By whom?

Example: A common Team Agreement that you can use is the five finger contract. Each finger represents a guideline for the girls but is easy for them to remember. The thumb is for being positive, the pointer finger is for pointing out the good in others, the middle finger is for no negativity, the ring finger is for loyalty and respect, and the pinky finger is for safety. Each finger has an attribute that describes the finger, and you can demonstrate this to the girls with just your hand. When you have agreed on the contract you can get a big piece of paper and have everyone trace their hands and sign their names in them to say that they agree to uphold and follow the contract. This is great for Daisies, Brownies, and Juniors.

Tips to Engage Girls in Girl Scout Activities

As a Troop Leader, your main responsibility is safety. However, you might often feel like you are an entertainer, trying to get girls involved in planned activities and discussions. Below are some helpful hints to remember:

- 1 Talk with them - Juliette Gordon Low said, "Ask the girls what they want to do." Good advice, even 100 years later! Rather than talking at the girls, talk with them and encourage them to share their thoughts and feelings and experiences.
- 2 Focus on the talents and skills of each girl - For example, if a girl is very organized, but is very shy about speaking in front of others, try to give her tasks that use her organizational skills. Her confidence in a job well done will help build her confidence to speak up. You could also structure some activities in which she would need to speak in front of a small group of girls. A very active girl can be involved in tasks that require movement rather than more passive, "sitting still" types of activities. Rejoice with a girl when she achieves something important to her, no matter how small it may seem. Don't hold all girls to a uniform standard of performance. Vary the amount of help and support given in a situation according to a girl's physical, intellectual, and emotional status.
- 3 Girls learn best by doing - As much as possible, allow the girls to experience, rather than talk or read about, a topic of interest. Encourage girls to discover things on their own and to try new things. Do not expect every girl to participate in every activity. If a girl does not wish to participate, suggest a quiet activity that will not disturb the group.
- 4 Let girls lead - Offer your help in small doses, but provide opportunities for girls to take on leadership roles and make decisions, even if those are not the same decisions you would have made. Girls often need less help than you think. Ask a girl the best way to do something. She usually knows. Make full use of the "buddy system" and rotate buddies so that everyone gets the chance to know one another. Younger girls may need some extra help sharing and taking turns.
- 5 Empower girls to make decisions and work with others to find solutions to problems- This encourages a cooperative learning environment. Intervene only if you are really needed. However, intercede immediately if a child's safety is at risk.
- 6 Help girls to develop positive self-esteem - Provide constructive support without being critical. As girls are growing, they are learning about their capabilities. Helping them to achieve positive self-esteem will be a great benefit to them now and in the future. At this age, when girls are reaching beyond their families, getting positive affirmation from others is critical. Accept each girl, as she is – strengths and weaknesses – so that she can learn to accept you and your guidance. Remember to use her name when speaking to her. Praise often; criticize never. Girls can understand that certain behaviors are unacceptable without being criticized. They need to be told clearly, and shown, which behaviors are acceptable.
- 7 Ask open-ended questions - Questions beginning with "how," "why," and "what" can lead to great discussions. Make sure to allow time for girls to think and then answer the questions. Examples: What are you feeling right now? Why? What did you learn about yourself today?
- 8 Allow time for reflection - Facilitate discussions about what they've learned, how they feel, and the experiences they are having. This is the most important part of a Girl Scout activity. There are lots of creative ways to help the girls to recognize what they've learned and experienced, but it might be as simple as having a conversation on the car ride home or stopping for a minute mid-activity to ask the girls what they are feeling or experiencing.

Guiding Children in a Learning Environment

Working with a group of children around the same age can be very different from working with your own children. The following tips can help you to encourage a safe learning environment:

- Set expectations by modeling respectful behavior.
 - Example: When the Girl Scout sign is used by anyone, make sure that you are quiet and raise your hand as well.
- When speaking to girls, get down to their level and look them in the eyes.
- Be consistent in words, actions, and expectations. Enforce clear boundaries and establish a routine – then stick with it!
- Facilitate open and honest discussions – create a safe environment, emotionally and physically, of peers and adults.
- Allow for small group discussions as well as individualized work.
- Provide opportunities for physical fun that help develop confidence and create social connections.
 - Example: Learn a new skill together, such as fishing or canoeing, or train for a race together.
- Tell children the goal that they are to achieve through the task at the beginning of the task.
 - Example: By learning to make recycled paper today, we will become better stewards of our environment and we will learn a new, useful skill!
- Give step-by-step directions on how to complete the task.
 - Example: First.....Then.....Next.....Finally.....
- Expect children to make mistakes – don't criticize and use a soft voice.
- Encourage children to ask questions and to put thought into what they are doing and why they are doing it.
- Suggest alternative actions – remember that children have short attention spans. Offer an alternative activity when a child is engaging in a negative action.
 - Example: "Why don't we play a quick game and then we will all be ready to sit in a circle to talk about"
- Offer praise as a reward for good work and good behavior. Let them know when they are doing things right and clearly communicate consequences for negative behavior.
- Be patient! Allow the children the time they need to think for themselves.
- Ask, then listen, then encourage.
- Allow time for reflection.
 - Example: What did you learn about yourself today? How are you feeling right now? What was the most important thing you discovered today?
- Turn conflicts into an opportunity for growth.
- The most important day is day one. Set expectations from the beginning.
- Develop a thick skin.
- Don't be afraid to confront serious issues.
- Enjoy it!

Leader-Daughter Survival Strategies

How do you balance being a Girl Scout leader and having your own daughter(s) in your Troop?

You have some challenges as well as many opportunities to strengthen your mother-daughter bond. Use the survival strategies below to discover ways to make the leader-daughter relationship powerful and positive.

- 1 Let the co-leader be in charge of your daughter and you are in charge of her daughter. This includes talking to her about what she may be doing wrong.
- 2 Try to give your daughter the same amount attention as other girls.
- 3 Don't always make your daughter set up or clean-up for meetings. Use some of the other girls that are there early to set up. Use Kaper charts for clean-up so everyone helps before the meeting is over.
- 4 Don't let your daughter know all of the surprises that will take place in the troop meeting. Let her be just as surprised as the other girls.
- 5 Don't have your daughter make the project before the meeting even if you want to know how long it will take or need a sample. Samples make the girls want to do it all the same way, so it is best to just give guidelines to allow for creativity.
- 6 Don't discuss problems in the troop in front of your daughter (including on the phone). Remember that girl-adult planning helps solve some problems. The girls make decisions together. Some daughters think they should make all decisions.
- 7 Have IT and OTHER bags with names on craft sticks so you can randomly pick a girl to help with something. You won't favor or ignore your daughter this way.
- 8 Don't personalize daughter's behavior. She may be trying to get a rise out of you (she knows all the buttons to push!).
- 9 Disagreements often arise over privacy and space: Don't make your daughter share her things if she doesn't want to.
- 10 Spend time alone with your daughter outside of Girl Scouts. Let her know she is special—outside of meetings.

Traditions

Bridging

Bridging is a way to recognize girls as they move up from one level of scouts to the next, for example, from Brownies to Juniors.

Games & Songs

Games and songs bring all girls together in order to break down traditional social barriers (such as cliques developed at school).

Investiture & Rededication

Investiture is a ceremony where new Girl Scouts commit to the Girl Scout Mission and to live by the Promise and Law. A Rededication is when a Girl Scout re-commits to Girl Scouts and is often held at the beginning of the Girl Scout Year.

Kaper Chart

A kaper is a task that needs to be done. A Kaper Chart is a Girl Scout tradition for dividing up these responsibilities and can be a very useful way of giving each girl an opportunity to perform each function throughout the year. See the online training entitled Kaper Charts for more information and ideas.

Scout's Own

Scout's Own is a ceremony planned by the girls that gives them a chance to reflect on something meaningful. It's often held around a campfire at the end of a campout.

Team Agreement

Invite girls to make their own team agreement. While working together as a team, determine acceptable behaviors girls and adults should follow during Girl Scout activities and meetings. Once this list has been created, girls and adults (including parents/guardians) sign the document and everyone gets a copy. If a disagreement occurs, it is amazing how quickly it gets resolved when girls and adults are reminded as to what behavior is permitted.

The Talking Stick

Whoever holds the talking stick has within her hands the sacred power of words. Only she can speak while she holds the stick; the other troop members must remain silent. The talking stick has been used for centuries by many American Indian tribes as a means of just and impartial hearing. Whatever the object, it carries respect for free speech and assures that the speaker has the freedom and power to say anything without fear of reprisal or humiliation.

Troop Government

The Troop Leader can help girls lead by using a troop government to involve every girl and divide the work so that everyone does her part. Democratic processes guide all troop planning and activities. Adult leaders and girls together participate in the planning process and collect activity ideas, make choices, plan what to do, carry out the activities, and evaluate experiences. Examples include creating patrols or spotlights (Daisy or Brownie of the Day).

Great Things to Know About Troop Finances

Bank Account

All troops should establish a bank account with two unrelated adult signers for collection of optional troop dues, payment of troop supplies and activities, and the Cookie Program proceeds. Staff will help you through this process!

Troop Dues

Many troops decide to collect troop dues as a way to help provide start-up funding for troop activities and supplies. These could range from $1-$2 per meeting to $30-$40 for the entire school year paid all at one time. It's completely up to each troop to decide what works best for them.

Money-earning Activities

The Cookie Program is the primary money-earning activity for a troop. If a troop participates in the Cookie Program, they may also opt to participate in a limited number of additional fundraising activities. Check Volunteer Essentials for guidelines on money-earning activities.

Financial Reporting and Receipts

To stay organized, troop leaders should use receipts to help track any incoming funds, outgoing expenses, and cookie activities. Every Girl Scout troop should report out to parents about finances at least three times per year. Troop Leaders should complete and turn in their Annual Troop Finance Report to their Girl Scout Service Unit Finance Representative by June 30th. Go to www.gsutah.org and click of Forms and Resources to find the Troop Annual Finance Report.

Financial Assistance

Financial difficulties should not stand in the way of a Girl Scout's participation. Any member needing financial assistance for membership may request it. Members may also request Activity Scholarships for programs and camp. Go to www.gsutah.org and click of Forms and Resources to find the Activity Scholarship Application.

Troop Bank Accounts

Financial Responsibility

Any volunteer accepting responsibility for handling group/troop money must:

- Be a GSUSA registered adult.
- Pass a criminal background check.
- Accept accountability for its proper use and safekeeping.
- Not be of the same family (related) or household of other signers on the account.
- Submit a completed Annual Financial Report each year.

To open a troop bank account, your troop needs the following:

- 2 unrelated adult Girl Scout members, who have passed their criminal background check, to sign on the account
- At least 5 girls in your troop
- If you have $50.00 (or more), you MUST open a Troop Bank Account.

Please follow the steps below to set up your troop bank account:

1. Have two unrelated signers, who have met the criteria outlined above under “Financial Responsibility.”
2. Fill in the forms and send them in, according to the instructions on the form. The forms can be found by:
 - Go to the New Troop Leader Support page of our website (<http://www.gsutah.org/en/for-volunteers/new-troop-leader-resources.html>)
 - Click on “5. Set Up a Troop Bank Account.”
 - Click on “Click Here for paperwork.”

Wells Fargo

GSU uses Wells Fargo Banking. The following are benefits of using a Wells Fargo bank account for your troop:

- The Council will set up the account for you (see above).
- Your troop receives debit card access and no monthly fees. We'll set this up for you too.
- If there are any issues relating to the account, GSU's Finance Department will be able to work it out with the bank directly.
- When a troop disbands, GSU's Finance Department is able to work with Wells Fargo to close the account.
- Money from the cookie sales go into the Council's Wells Fargo account.

Note: If you cannot access a Wells Fargo Bank branch, please contact Member Support at (801) 265-8472 and they will develop an alternate plan for your troop.

Girl Scouting builds girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place.

2. Information needed for signers—2 copies

On Document #1, the Addendum to Certificate of Authority, write your troop number on the top of the form. Both the leader and co-leader must sign where indicated. There are two lines with the boxes checked "ADD." In the first column print the first/last name of the leader and co-leader. In the second column, both the leader and co-leader must sign.

Highlighted Finance/Money Policies:

Make sure to check the Money chapter in Volunteer Essentials to get the full policies on troop finances and money-earning!

- Girls earn money in two distinct ways:
 - “Council-sponsored product sales” are council-wide sales of Girl Scout–authorized products (such as the Girl Scout Cookie Program) in which members participate as part of the Girl Scout program.
 - “Group money-earning” refers to activities organized by the group (not by the council) that are planned and carried out by girls (in partnership with adults) and that earn money for the group. These activities must be approved by the council in writing.
- Troop money-earning projects must be approved by the Service Unit Finance Representative at least 2 weeks in advance of the project.
- No troop money-earning projects may be conducted during the Girl Scout Cookie Program.
- Girls may not request direct cash contributions/donations.
- Money-earning activities/projects may be conducted only when there is need for additional income for a specific program activity. It should not exceed what the troop needs to support its activities/projects.
- Girl Scout Daisy and Brownie troops may not participate in additional money-earning projects beyond the council-sponsored Cookie Program.
- Any donations or sponsorship received should use the Sponsorship Agreement Form, found on the Forms page of our website (www.gsutah.org).
- Any donation of $250.00 or more must be received by the GSU Council, and will then be transferred directly to the troop account. This is a tax requirement.
- Any donors found on the Community Partners page of our website should not be contacted for sponsorship unless the Council has granted permission to do so.
- If a Troop disbands:
 - Unused Girl Scout money left in accounts when groups disband becomes the property of the council.
 - Prior to disbanding, the group may decide to spend the money on a final troop activity for the girls or donate any unused funds to a worthwhile organization or another troop.
 - If the girls choose to make a donation to a charitable organization, they should use the funds to purchase an in-kind donation and deliver it to the chosen organization.
 - The council will hold a disbanding troop’s funds for one calendar year in case the troop decides to begin again. After the year, the money will be used exclusively by the GSU Council for girl programs.

The Girl Scout Product Programs

When Girl Scouts participate in the Cookie Program or Fall Product Program, their troops earn proceeds from each package sold. Troops decide how their funds are spent, from funding a troop camping trip to their Bronze Award. Product Programs also give Girl Scouts the opportunity to earn badges. Participation in the Cookie Program and Fall Product Program is optional, but highly encouraged.

When girls sell cookies they also earn Activity Credits. These can be redeemed for items in the shop, program fees, camp fees, and membership fees.

One of the most important parts of a successful Cookie or Fall Product Program is asking for help. Be sure to reach out to parent ahead of time to help with delivery, booth sales, finances, and more. Every troop that participates in Cookies or Fall Product should have a Troop Product Program Manager.

For additional information about Product Programs, including dates, trainings, and how to get involved, visit the Cookies+ tab at gsutah.org.

5 SKILLS GAINED THROUGH THE GIRL SCOUT COOKIE PROGRAM

GOAL SETTING:
how to develop a business plan.

DECISION MAKING:
think critically and solve problems.

MONEY MANAGEMENT:
directly handle customer money.

BUSINESS ETHICS:
develop positive values like honesty and integrity.

PEOPLE SKILLS:
engage with members of the community and develop confidence.

Have a Successful Product Program

When girls participate in the Girl Scout Product Programs, they develop important life skills – goal setting, decision making, money management, people skills, and business ethics – that will set them up for success beyond anything they can imagine.

Quick Steps to Getting Started:

- 1 Confirm that your troop consists of a minimum of the following:
 - Two (2) currently registered adults
 - Five (5) currently registered girls
 - One Troop Leader
 - One Co-Leader
- 2 Verify your troop bank account and submit a canceled troop check to Girl Scouts of Utah's Finance Department (445 E 4500 S #125, Salt Lake City, UT 84107) by December 10, 2018.
- 3 Talk with an adult volunteer about becoming a Troop Product Program Manager and helping girls succeed as entrepreneurs.

If your troop forms after the Fall Product or Cookie Program deadline, contact Customer Care to see if you can still get involved.

Quick tips for becoming a successful Troop Product Program Manager:

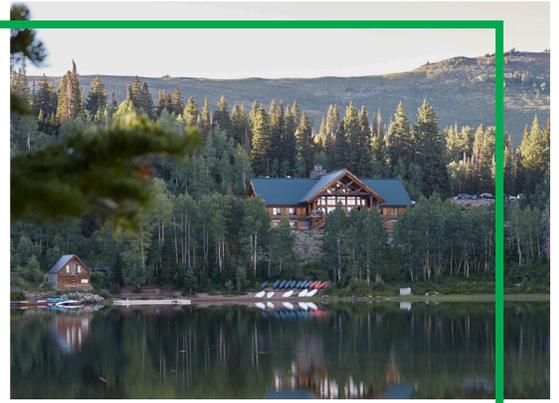

- 1 Purchase a Girl Scout membership
- 2 Pass GSU's background check. If you have done this within the last three years, take a look to see that it doesn't expire within the Cookie or Fall Product season.
- 3 Have no outstanding debt to GSU
- 4 Complete the Troop Cookie/Fall Product Manager Agreement form.
- 5 Join us for Training. Your Service Unit Product Program Representative will contact you with training dates

If you need help at any time during this process, we're here for you!
Contact Customer Care at (801) 265-8472 or info@gsutah.org

Council and Service Unit Events

Girl Scout volunteers and staff host numerous events throughout the year where girls can step out of their comfort zones to take risks and build confidence, learn by doing, solve problems, cultivate their creativity, and of course, have fun! Some examples of Council and Service Unit Events include:

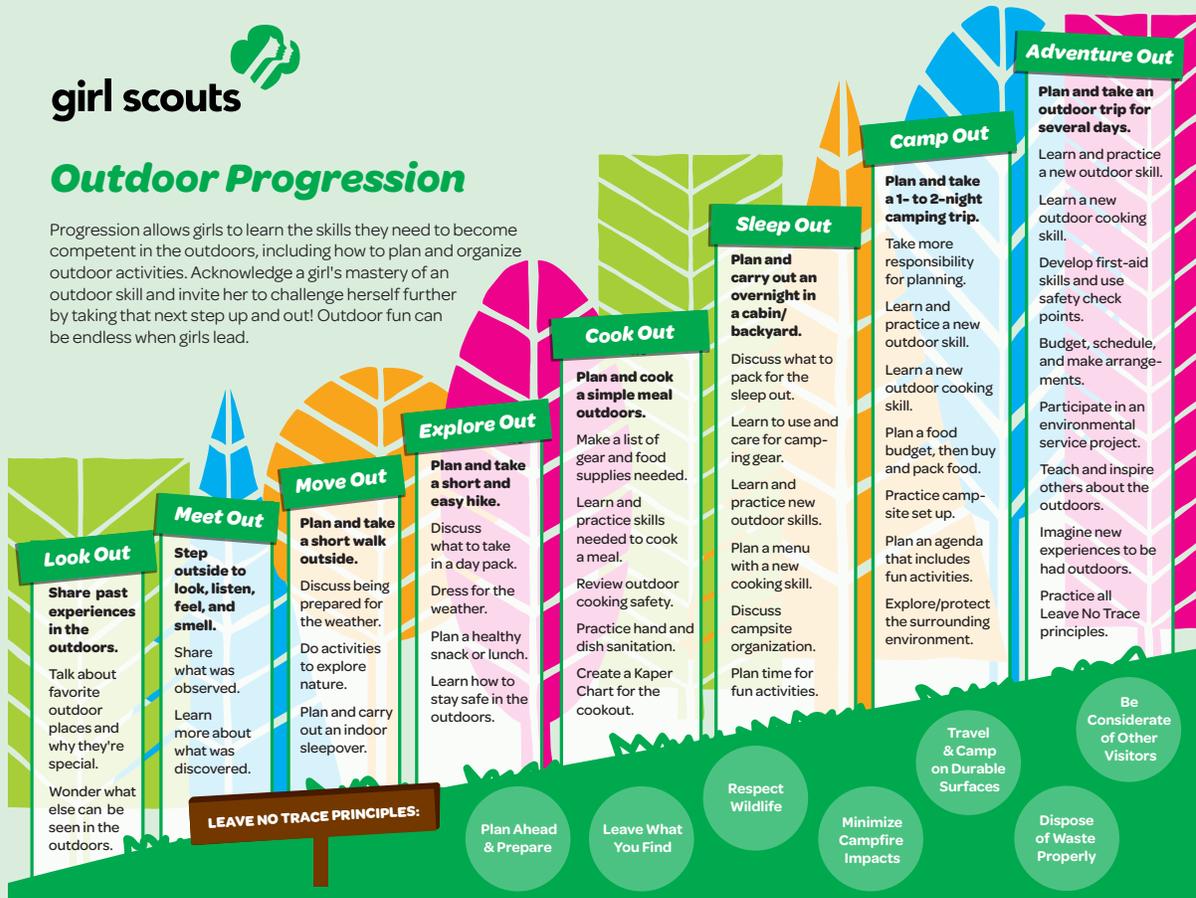

- Day Camps (games, badge work, leadership, team-building, outdoor skills, etc.)
- STEM and Research (Lego League, robotics, museum tours, etc.)
- Cultural events (The Nutcracker, theater, etc.)
- Parties (dances, bbqs, amusement parks, cookie parties, etc.)

Camp

Girl Scouts of Utah owns two camps – Camp Cloud Rim and Trefoil Ranch. Camp programs are run year-round, and range from horseback riding, to water sports, to winter camping and more!

Troops are also encouraged to take camping trips, following the Girl Scout Outdoor Progression:
